

ES BECAUSE HE CANNOT HANG.

Stops the Execution of Jackin and Genz and the Latter Is Furious.

nounces His Lawyer and Says He Wants to Die in Order to See the Woman He Killed.

HAD TO BE THREATENED WITH A GAG.

Gallows Erected Within Hearing of the Condemned Men and Mackin Shud-ders—Hangman Van Hise Is Disappointed.

John Mackin and Paul Genz, the two murderers who were to have been executed in the Hudson County (N. J.) Jail this morning, will not hang for some time yet. Their counsel, shortly after 6 P. M. yesterday, served upon Sheriff Toffey, Supreme Court Justice Lippincott and County Clerk Fisher a notice, indorsed by Clerk Rickle, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, that a writ of error had been filed with the Sheriff Toffey, before he received the notice, and been informed by the counsel that it would be served, and he wired to Governor Griggs at Trenton for instructions. The Governor was unable to leave Trenton, so sent Attorney-General John H. Stockton to represent him.

A consultation was held during the morning in Chancellor McGill's library, the Chancellor taking no part in the talk, and as a result the Attorney-General advised the Sheriff to receive the writ. Counselor John H. Stockton, representing Mackin, and ex-Senator William Stubb, counsel for Genz, went to Trenton early yesterday morning and secured the indorsement of Clerk Rickle, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, to the writ of error prepared by them. Before he left for Trenton, Senator Stubb stated that Mackin had informed the murderer what he intended doing.

Genz wasn't a bit shaken. "Why don't you let me die?" he shouted. "I want to see my Clara."

Then he cursed loudly, shaking his manacled hands as he did so. "This profession of religion didn't last long," remarked Warden Mitchell, who stood near by. Mackin, in his cell, prayed while Genz cursed.

Despite the general opinion that a stay would be secured, preparations for the hanging went on all day. The gallows were admitted. Hangman Van Hise, with his son, drove up to the rear entrance of the jail shortly before 2 P. M. in a wagon containing the gallows, which was in sections. It was quickly unloaded and taken to cord No. 6, from which all the prisoners had been removed. The gallows were carried to the gallows. Mackin and Genz, as the scaffold was erected, the second of the hangings was carried to the gallows. Mackin and Genz, as the scaffold was erected, the second of the hangings was carried to the gallows. Mackin and Genz, as the scaffold was erected, the second of the hangings was carried to the gallows.

After the papers had been served upon the Sheriff last night it was decided not to notify the condemned men that a stay had been secured. The news was, however, carried to them in some manner. Mackin, saying he hoped he would make a good job of the hanging.

Genz was furious. He cursed and raved so loudly that he had to be threatened with a gag. Toward his counsel he was especially bitter. "I want to die," he shouted. "Why didn't you let me leave me hate my whist?" Finally he relapsed into his usual moody silence.

The gallows will be taken down this morning. Hangman Van Hise was very much disappointed. "Those lawyer fellows," he said, "think it's great to spoil my job. I would have made a good one of it."

Hangman Van Hise delights in executions and regards all lawyers who defend murderers as his natural enemies. The stay secured will give the murderers a lease of life until November next.

LONG RUN AND A RESCUE.
Negro Goes Five Blocks and Saves an Exhausted White Man from Drowning.

Atlantic Highlands, N. J., July 15.—T. D. Hooper, of New York, a summer resident of the Sandy Bar cottage, at Navesink beach, nearly lost his life while bathing in the sea yesterday.

Mr. Hooper was attacked with cramps and his struggles attracted the attention of some people who saw him and called. Thomas Smith, a colored man employed by Mr. T. C. Campbell, of New York, heard the cries and ran to the drowning man's assistance. A distance of at least five blocks, but he got there in time to pull Mr. Hooper, who was nearly exhausted, to the shore.

The only T. D. Hooper in the directory is Thomas D. Hooper, a broker at No. 17 New street, and residing at No. 219 West Seventieth street.

FAMILY GREW, SALARY DIDN'T.
Principal Dietz Protested in Vain, but His Wife's Stipend Is Raised.

Perth Amboy, N. J., July 15.—Principal Charles Dietz, of Public School No. 4, asked the Board of Education for an increase in salary, and he presents interesting figures in support of his appeal. He says that since his salary was fixed at $700 per annum the number of pupils he has to teach has more than doubled, his family has doubled in size, but the salary has remained stationary. He argued that for these reasons he should receive an increase. He teaches French, German and music, and holds the office of Justice of the Peace. In addition to his school duties, Mrs. Dietz is janitor of the building, however, and her salary was increased from $100 to $150 per annum.

IS HE "JANE DOE'S" PARTNER?
Man Arrested in Jersey City Had Counterfeit Dollars in His Possession.

Secret Service agents late Tuesday night in Jersey City arrested A. Johnson on the charge of passing counterfeit silver dollars. Several were found upon him. It is believed he was a partner of "Jane Doe," the mysterious woman now a prisoner in the Hudson County Jail, who passed spurious coin on Hoboken shopkeepers.

The Secret Service officers think Johnson lived in Newark at the time the counterfeit money was passed. He was committed to the County Jail to await examination.

Deserted Because of Her Name.
Clifton, S. I., July 15.—A small yacht was seen floating apparently without guidance in the Channel to-day. She was finally overhauled and found to be empty. She was in good condition, and there was no evidence as to who she had been in a storm. The boat could hold only a few persons, and was named Valkyrie.

Lawyer James R. Marvin Dead.
New York, N. Y., July 15.—James R. Marvin, a well-known member of the New York Bar, died at his summer home at the side, in this place, yesterday, after a long illness. He and Chauncey M. De Munn were associated in the law office of 111 Bay.

His Name and Died.
N. Y., July 15.—Early this morning a man named John Moran, who had walked to the door, but that he was lastly offered a quick trip to the other side of the river. He told no more, and lay down. He died in less than half an hour. It is thought that heart failure was the cause.

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE.

Strike Head-on and the Baggage-master
Is Probably Fatally Hurt.
Others Injured.

Lambertville, N. J., July 15.—A disastrous head-on collision between two passenger trains occurred to-day near Willow Grove on the Northern Pennsylvania Railroad, a branch of the Reading, running from Philadelphia to New Hope, across the river from here. The baggage master was probably fatally hurt and two boys were seriously injured. The names of the injured were not learned, as they were hurried away to the hospital in Philadelphia.

It was reported this afternoon that the baggage master died soon after being admitted to the hospital, but this could not be verified.

The south bound train was a special train which had taken an excursion from Philadelphia to Deer Park, about three miles from here, and was in charge of conductor John Martin, of Philadelphia. Orders were sent from Philadelphia for the special train, which consisted of about ten cars, to return to Philadelphia after discharging the passengers at the park. Train No. 343, which left Reading for New Hope, Philadelphia, at 10:30 A. M. for New Hope, was in charge of conductor Silas Yerkes and Engineer Lewis Peze, both of New Hope. Inasmuch as the special train was late, it was not until about 11:30 A. M. that the north bound regular train had the right of way, and had just left Willow Grove for New Hope when the special train crashed into it.

Luckily there were only about twenty people in the regular train and they were all in the rear end of the train, which received severe cuts on the head and body. Engineer Peze and Fireman Carroll, seeing the impending danger, jumped, as did also the engineer and fireman of the special train, and were thrown from the train, but were not badly hurt.

Walker Conley, of Willow Grove, a passenger on the regular train, was asleep in the baggage car when the wreck occurred, and when awakened saw the tender of the engine jammed into the car. The engine of the special train was the cause of the accident as a train running extra must protect itself from all regular scheduled trains. Travel was delayed both ways until 5 P. M.

G. O. P. LEAGUE MEETS.
Work of the St. Louis Convention Indorsed, and a Republican Majority in New Jersey Predicted.

Asbury Park, July 15.—Two thousand enthusiastic delegates to the State Republican League of Clubs poured into Asbury Park to-day, and with colors flying and bands playing, marched about the town shouting for the national ticket and predicting a victory for the Republican majority in New Jersey next November. After their State Convention, the city was decorated to some extent in their honor.

Newark sent the largest crowd with fourteen carloads. President Frank J. Higgins, of Jersey City, and Secretary Meyer, and score of other Republicans, influential in National and State politics, are here. The Republican League of Clubs, which showed up in goodly numbers and made a fine appearance. The Frelinghuysen Landers, in their ornate and well equipped car, and plumed helmets, made a good impression and received frequent applause along the line of march. The U. S. Grant Republican Club, of Newark, made a splendid showing. Their excursion included a dozen other societies. The different delegations as they arrived formed in platoons, and headed by bands, marched to the Asbury Park Auditorium, where the convention was held. Every contingent was applauded by the crowds on the hotel piazzas.

At 12:45 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Higgins. The hall was magnificently decorated. President Higgins' annual address told of the work that had been done by the league, and particular reference was made to its activity at the St. Louis Convention. Mr. Higgins predicted 50,000 Republican majority next November.

The secretary's report showed that the League had 634 members, an increase of 32,000 over last year. The president appointed his committees on rules and credentials and the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock. The resolutions, which were presented at the afternoon session by Judge Frank Fort, indorsed the candidates on the ticket, the Republican platform adopted at St. Louis, the administration of Governor Griggs and the acts of the last Legislature.

At the afternoon session M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, secretary of the National League of Clubs, made an address urging that hard work would be necessary to defeat the Democratic nominees. He made a sound money speech and denounced the Democratic party, which, he said, was drifting rapidly toward Socialism and Anarchy.

METHODISTS ARE IN PERIL.
Awful Possibility of a Dance Being Held in Camp-Meeting Time.

Mount Tabor, N. J., July 15.—The Mount Tabor Methodist Camp Meeting Association will meet next week, and action will be taken on the recent proceedings at the Lake House, on Tabor Lake. The proceedings were not at all scandalous, but the association is scandalized nevertheless. A reception was given, and a dance held last Friday evening, and the Methodist discipline deprecates dancing. The Boston orchestra furnished music, and a joyous time was had. The association does not like it. While they do not control the hotel, still the former lessees have been careful not to displease the association. This year the lessees have no objection to the little festivity. The association, with disciplinary eyes, however, and the members are horrified to think what a terrible thing it would be for the next dance to be held in camp meeting time.

NO AFTER-DARK PICNICS.
Bishop Wigger Prohibits Them and Abolishes Payment of Church Entrance Fees.

Seton Hall, N. J., July 15.—Bishop Wigger has issued a circular, canceling all slight modifications of his original intentions. They apply to all the churches in the diocese.

Instead of ruling that all church picnics must close at 6 P. M., as was at first projected, the Bishop ordains that they must not continue after dark. As to door collecting, the Bishop says that the priests shall not be the collectors, and that the fact that a person is unable to put money into the church box, should not be a disgrace to him or her from entering to worship.

The orders were issued only after long consultation with the leading clergymen of the diocese, and the priests will be held responsible for their strict enforcement.

VAN RIPER NOW A FIREMAN.
Worth $200,000, the Height of His Ambition is to Drive the Fire Horses.

Paterson, N. J., July 15.—Daniel Romayne Van Ripper, who is worth about $200,000, and who first came into public notice about two months ago, when three men were arrested and indicted on the charge of swindling him out of a large sum of money, now aspires to be a fireman, and is practicing in the house of a local fire company. He seems to enjoy the novel experience greatly. He has slept in the engine house several nights, slid down the pole when alarms have been sounded, and, in fact, has performed all the duties of a full-fledged fireman.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

BLINDED HE DRIVES THROUGH BROADWAY.

Mind Reader Neumann Gives an Exhibition That Rivals Bishop's Best.

Locates an Article Hidden by a Committee on the Top of Olympia's Roof.

NEARLY EXHAUSTED AFTER THE TEST.

Is a Young Russian, Who Claims to Have Discovered at the Age of Eleven That He Could Read Thoughts of Others.

One of the most remarkable tests of mind or muscle reading since the days of Washington Irving Bishop was successfully accomplished yesterday by Dietrich Neumann, a Russian, twenty-one years of age. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, a committee left the Herald Square Theatre in an open carriage for the purpose of hiding whatever object they might decide upon in any nook, corner or building within the city limits. The driver was instructed to go through Broadway to Thirty-first street, thence to Fifth avenue, up Fifth avenue to Fortieth street, along Fortieth street to Vanderbilt avenue and thence through Forty-fourth street to Broadway.

A stop was made at Hammerstein's Olympia. By way of the elevator the roof garden was reached, and in the upper part of one of the boxes, one of the party placed an English penny of the date of 1802.

Returning to the Herald Square Theatre Neumann was met and blindfolded. Placing his hand on the right wrist of the man who had secreted the coin, he requested that the person who had hidden the penny think intently of a name and number of a house immediately adjacent to the place where the object had been placed. Neumann next called for a City Directory and a plan. He hastily turned the pages of the book until he reached the "S." Then he stopped. The plan nervously up and down the pages and finally stuck at "George Schloss, No. 1215 Broadway."

"That's it!" unconsciously exclaimed one of those present. Without a word Neumann seized the man who had hidden the penny, and, with a hurried "Come on!" he darted downstairs to the awaiting carriage. Mounting the box he turned the horses directly up Broadway.

Blindfolded, he drove along the crowded thoroughfare, threading his way between passing cable cars and vehicles in the most marvelous manner. Thousands of persons followed, expecting every minute to see the mind-reader, his carriage and its occupants come to grief.

The first stop was made at Forty-second street. Neumann compelled his subject to get out, and for a few moments the two wandered aimlessly up and down the street.

At 12:45 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Higgins. The hall was magnificently decorated. President Higgins' annual address told of the work that had been done by the league, and particular reference was made to its activity at the St. Louis Convention. Mr. Higgins predicted 50,000 Republican majority next November.

The secretary's report showed that the League had 634 members, an increase of 32,000 over last year. The president appointed his committees on rules and credentials and the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock. The resolutions, which were presented at the afternoon session by Judge Frank Fort, indorsed the candidates on the ticket, the Republican platform adopted at St. Louis, the administration of Governor Griggs and the acts of the last Legislature.

At the afternoon session M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, secretary of the National League of Clubs, made an address urging that hard work would be necessary to defeat the Democratic nominees. He made a sound money speech and denounced the Democratic party, which, he said, was drifting rapidly toward Socialism and Anarchy.

METHODISTS ARE IN PERIL.
Awful Possibility of a Dance Being Held in Camp-Meeting Time.

Mount Tabor, N. J., July 15.—The Mount Tabor Methodist Camp Meeting Association will meet next week, and action will be taken on the recent proceedings at the Lake House, on Tabor Lake. The proceedings were not at all scandalous, but the association is scandalized nevertheless. A reception was given, and a dance held last Friday evening, and the Methodist discipline deprecates dancing. The Boston orchestra furnished music, and a joyous time was had. The association does not like it. While they do not control the hotel, still the former lessees have been careful not to displease the association. This year the lessees have no objection to the little festivity. The association, with disciplinary eyes, however, and the members are horrified to think what a terrible thing it would be for the next dance to be held in camp meeting time.

NO AFTER-DARK PICNICS.
Bishop Wigger Prohibits Them and Abolishes Payment of Church Entrance Fees.

Seton Hall, N. J., July 15.—Bishop Wigger has issued a circular, canceling all slight modifications of his original intentions. They apply to all the churches in the diocese.

Instead of ruling that all church picnics must close at 6 P. M., as was at first projected, the Bishop ordains that they must not continue after dark. As to door collecting, the Bishop says that the priests shall not be the collectors, and that the fact that a person is unable to put money into the church box, should not be a disgrace to him or her from entering to worship.

The orders were issued only after long consultation with the leading clergymen of the diocese, and the priests will be held responsible for their strict enforcement.

VAN RIPER NOW A FIREMAN.
Worth $200,000, the Height of His Ambition is to Drive the Fire Horses.

Paterson, N. J., July 15.—Daniel Romayne Van Ripper, who is worth about $200,000, and who first came into public notice about two months ago, when three men were arrested and indicted on the charge of swindling him out of a large sum of money, now aspires to be a fireman, and is practicing in the house of a local fire company. He seems to enjoy the novel experience greatly. He has slept in the engine house several nights, slid down the pole when alarms have been sounded, and, in fact, has performed all the duties of a full-fledged fireman.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

LANGERMAN IS DEFIANT.

He Denies That He Robbed Mrs. Merle and
She Fails to Press the Complaint Against Him.

Mrs. S. Merle, of No. 150 West Forty-sixth street, who told the West Thirtieth street police on Tuesday night that Walter L. S. Langerman, notorious as the defendant in the Barbara Aub case, had robbed her of a pocketbook containing $50, in a room at the Warwick Hotel, did not appear in Jefferson Market Court yesterday to ask for a warrant for his arrest.

Captain Chapman had said he would not arrest Langerman except upon a court warrant, as, according to Mrs. Merle's own story, there were three other people in the room when the pocketbook was taken. The Magistrate, Captain Chapman said, would have to assume the responsibility for the arrest.

Mrs. Merle denied herself yesterday to all newspaper men. Her husband's appeal, which annoyed at the publication of the escape and last evening declared she had requested her to leave the house.

Manager Easton of the Warwick Hotel, denies in the most emphatic manner that either Mrs. Merle or Langerman had been a guest on Tuesday night. The Broadway Garden people said that Mrs. Merle, Langerman and another man and woman had been there on Tuesday night. Mrs. Merle, they said, was hilarious, and was throwing $5 and $10 bills around.

From the Broadway Garden they went to Martin's restaurant, and a hackman at the corner of Fortieth street and Broadway, said it was after they came out of that restaurant that the quarrel took place over the missing money.

Langerman was in his Nassau street office yesterday. He did not appear excited over Mrs. Merle's accusation. "I have known her well for a long time,"

Placing his hand on the right wrist of the man who had secreted the coin, he requested that the person who had hidden the penny think intently of a name and number of a house immediately adjacent to the place where the object had been placed. Neumann next called for a City Directory and a plan. He hastily turned the pages of the book until he reached the "S." Then he stopped. The plan nervously up and down the pages and finally stuck at "George Schloss, No. 1215 Broadway."

"That's it!" unconsciously exclaimed one of those present. Without a word Neumann seized the man who had hidden the penny, and, with a hurried "Come on!" he darted downstairs to the awaiting carriage. Mounting the box he turned the horses directly up Broadway.

Blindfolded, he drove along the crowded thoroughfare, threading his way between passing cable cars and vehicles in the most marvelous manner. Thousands of persons followed, expecting every minute to see the mind-reader, his carriage and its occupants come to grief.

The first stop was made at Forty-second street. Neumann compelled his subject to get out, and for a few moments the two wandered aimlessly up and down the street.

At 12:45 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Higgins. The hall was magnificently decorated. President Higgins' annual address told of the work that had been done by the league, and particular reference was made to its activity at the St. Louis Convention. Mr. Higgins predicted 50,000 Republican majority next November.

The secretary's report showed that the League had 634 members, an increase of 32,000 over last year. The president appointed his committees on rules and credentials and the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock. The resolutions, which were presented at the afternoon session by Judge Frank Fort, indorsed the candidates on the ticket, the Republican platform adopted at St. Louis, the administration of Governor Griggs and the acts of the last Legislature.

At the afternoon session M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, secretary of the National League of Clubs, made an address urging that hard work would be necessary to defeat the Democratic nominees. He made a sound money speech and denounced the Democratic party, which, he said, was drifting rapidly toward Socialism and Anarchy.

METHODISTS ARE IN PERIL.
Awful Possibility of a Dance Being Held in Camp-Meeting Time.

Mount Tabor, N. J., July 15.—The Mount Tabor Methodist Camp Meeting Association will meet next week, and action will be taken on the recent proceedings at the Lake House, on Tabor Lake. The proceedings were not at all scandalous, but the association is scandalized nevertheless. A reception was given, and a dance held last Friday evening, and the Methodist discipline deprecates dancing. The Boston orchestra furnished music, and a joyous time was had. The association does not like it. While they do not control the hotel, still the former lessees have been careful not to displease the association. This year the lessees have no objection to the little festivity. The association, with disciplinary eyes, however, and the members are horrified to think what a terrible thing it would be for the next dance to be held in camp meeting time.

NO AFTER-DARK PICNICS.
Bishop Wigger Prohibits Them and Abolishes Payment of Church Entrance Fees.

Seton Hall, N. J., July 15.—Bishop Wigger has issued a circular, canceling all slight modifications of his original intentions. They apply to all the churches in the diocese.

Instead of ruling that all church picnics must close at 6 P. M., as was at first projected, the Bishop ordains that they must not continue after dark. As to door collecting, the Bishop says that the priests shall not be the collectors, and that the fact that a person is unable to put money into the church box, should not be a disgrace to him or her from entering to worship.

The orders were issued only after long consultation with the leading clergymen of the diocese, and the priests will be held responsible for their strict enforcement.

VAN RIPER NOW A FIREMAN.
Worth $200,000, the Height of His Ambition is to Drive the Fire Horses.

Paterson, N. J., July 15.—Daniel Romayne Van Ripper, who is worth about $200,000, and who first came into public notice about two months ago, when three men were arrested and indicted on the charge of swindling him out of a large sum of money, now aspires to be a fireman, and is practicing in the house of a local fire company. He seems to enjoy the novel experience greatly. He has slept in the engine house several nights, slid down the pole when alarms have been sounded, and, in fact, has performed all the duties of a full-fledged fireman.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

ANOTHER VICTIM AT DEAD MAN'S CURVE.

William McCallum Thrown from
One of the New Smoking Cars.

Landed Under the Wheels of a Truck and Narrowly Escaped Death.

BADLY CUT ABOUT FACE AND HANDS.

Passengers in a Lexington Avenue Car Shaken Up and Injured by Slipping of the Cable Grip.

Dead Man's Curve must go!

It added another to its long string of accidents yesterday. This time the victim was William McCallum, a young clerk, who lives at No. 344 West Forty-third street. At noon yesterday smoking car No. 600, of the Broadway line, was rounding the curve at Fourteenth street at full speed. The car was crowded almost to suffocation, and men, women and children were

Placing his hand on the right wrist of the man who had secreted the coin, he requested that the person who had hidden the penny think intently of a name and number of a house immediately adjacent to the place where the object had been placed. Neumann next called for a City Directory and a plan. He hastily turned the pages of the book until he reached the "S." Then he stopped. The plan nervously up and down the pages and finally stuck at "George Schloss, No. 1215 Broadway."

"That's it!" unconsciously exclaimed one of those present. Without a word Neumann seized the man who had hidden the penny, and, with a hurried "Come on!" he darted downstairs to the awaiting carriage. Mounting the box he turned the horses directly up Broadway.

Blindfolded, he drove along the crowded thoroughfare, threading his way between passing cable cars and vehicles in the most marvelous manner. Thousands of persons followed, expecting every minute to see the mind-reader, his carriage and its occupants come to grief.

The first stop was made at Forty-second street. Neumann compelled his subject to get out, and for a few moments the two wandered aimlessly up and down the street.

At 12:45 o'clock the meeting was called to order by President Higgins. The hall was magnificently decorated. President Higgins' annual address told of the work that had been done by the league, and particular reference was made to its activity at the St. Louis Convention. Mr. Higgins predicted 50,000 Republican majority next November.

The secretary's report showed that the League had 634 members, an increase of 32,000 over last year. The president appointed his committees on rules and credentials and the convention adjourned until 2:30 o'clock. The resolutions, which were presented at the afternoon session by Judge Frank Fort, indorsed the candidates on the ticket, the Republican platform adopted at St. Louis, the administration of Governor Griggs and the acts of the last Legislature.

At the afternoon session M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, secretary of the National League of Clubs, made an address urging that hard work would be necessary to defeat the Democratic nominees. He made a sound money speech and denounced the Democratic party, which, he said, was drifting rapidly toward Socialism and Anarchy.

METHODISTS ARE IN PERIL.
Awful Possibility of a Dance Being Held in Camp-Meeting Time.

Mount Tabor, N. J., July 15.—The Mount Tabor Methodist Camp Meeting Association will meet next week, and action will be taken on the recent proceedings at the Lake House, on Tabor Lake. The proceedings were not at all scandalous, but the association is scandalized nevertheless. A reception was given, and a dance held last Friday evening, and the Methodist discipline deprecates dancing. The Boston orchestra furnished music, and a joyous time was had. The association does not like it. While they do not control the hotel, still the former lessees have been careful not to displease the association. This year the lessees have no objection to the little festivity. The association, with disciplinary eyes, however, and the members are horrified to think what a terrible thing it would be for the next dance to be held in camp meeting time.

NO AFTER-DARK PICNICS.
Bishop Wigger Prohibits Them and Abolishes Payment of Church Entrance Fees.

Seton Hall, N. J., July 15.—Bishop Wigger has issued a circular, canceling all slight modifications of his original intentions. They apply to all the churches in the diocese.

Instead of ruling that all church picnics must close at 6 P. M., as was at first projected, the Bishop ordains that they must not continue after dark. As to door collecting, the Bishop says that the priests shall not be the collectors, and that the fact that a person is unable to put money into the church box, should not be a disgrace to him or her from entering to worship.

VAN RIPER NOW A FIREMAN.
Worth $200,000, the Height of His Ambition is to Drive the Fire Horses.

Paterson, N. J., July 15.—Daniel Romayne Van Ripper, who is worth about $200,000, and who first came into public notice about two months ago, when three men were arrested and indicted on the charge of swindling him out of a large sum of money, now aspires to be a fireman, and is practicing in the house of a local fire company. He seems to enjoy the novel experience greatly. He has slept in the engine house several nights, slid down the pole when alarms have been sounded, and, in fact, has performed all the duties of a full-fledged fireman.

The orders were issued only after long consultation with the leading clergymen of the diocese, and the priests will be held responsible for their strict enforcement.

VAN RIPER NOW A FIREMAN.
Worth $200,000, the Height of His Ambition is to Drive the Fire Horses.

Paterson, N. J., July 15.—Daniel Romayne Van Ripper, who is worth about $200,000, and who first came into public notice about two months ago, when three men were arrested and indicted on the charge of swindling him out of a large sum of money, now aspires to be a fireman, and is practicing in the house of a local fire company. He seems to enjoy the novel experience greatly. He has slept in the engine house several nights, slid down the pole when alarms have been sounded, and, in fact, has performed all the duties of a full-fledged fireman.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

Last night Van Ripper had a contest with another citizen to determine which could slide down the pole the quickest. Van Ripper won two out of three trials. The contest attracted a large crowd. Van Ripper's greatest ambition is now to become a driver on the engine.

BARBER SILENCED JUDGE.

Coney Island's Magistrate Finds It Difficult to Hold Court and Get Shaved at the Same Time.

Justice Nostrand of the Coney Island Police Court, who is sitting for Justice Steers in the Grant Street Police Court, Flatbush, while the latter is away on his vacation, yesterday astonished the denizens of Flatbush by holding court in a barber shop.